DRAMA

The Access Recreation Drama Program celebrates the uniqueness and ability of each participant and promotes strong communication skills, team work and creative thought with well supported classes to ensure an individual learning experience.

Our drama group often write their own material during the year, showcasing the participant's abilities to script and devise characters ready for live performance. In addition, participants perform in end of year shows for family and friends.

To complement performance skills, participants also have the opportunity to go backstage and watch local productions to develop their understanding of the inner workings of theatre.

Participating in our Drama Program develops communication skills, team work, creative thought, and is guaranteed to build confidence!
